

Lloyd's List

The Original Source of Maritime News and Insight

Maritime Insights.
Anytime, Anywhere.

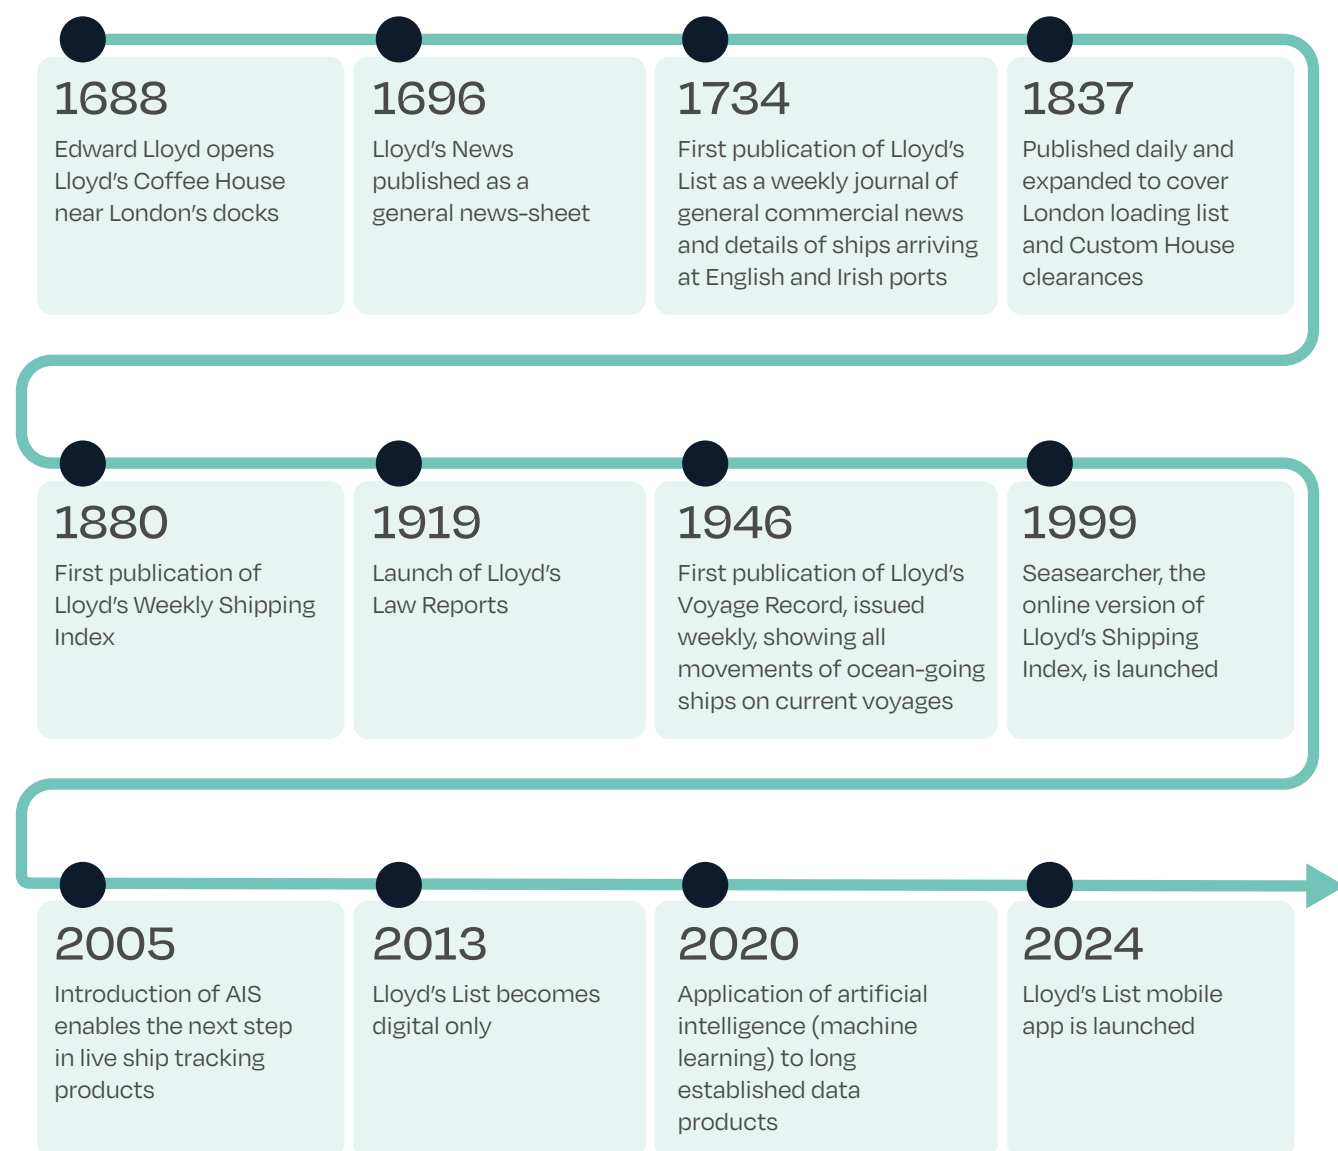

Experts in maritime, since 1688

Established in 1734, Lloyd's List has evolved from the original shipping newsletter into the leading source of maritime insight and intelligence, covering all facets of the shipping industry. With nearly 300 years of experience, we have continuously evolved to meet the needs of a changing industry providing shipping professionals with expert analysis and real-time, data-driven insights. Our rich history and expertise make Lloyd's List the most trusted name in maritime intelligence.

The Lloyd's List difference

Lloyd's List is at the forefront of the maritime conversation, delivering critical insights and expert analysis on topics that matter most. From regulatory shifts and market dynamics to decarbonisation and digitalisation, we provide accurate and timely news and analysis that helps our clients understand industry trends and make informed decisions. Our commitment to leading the conversation keeps our subscribers ahead in this ever-changing sector.

Our people

Our independent, trusted team of impartial journalists and analysts draw on countless years of experience when monitoring and reporting on the shipping industry. They provide a validated, filtered view of the key news issues and themes, so you don't have to trawl through hundreds of sources.

Our network

We have direct connections to the key leaders running and monitoring the global maritime industry, and a strict, independent editorial methodology. This ensures that we're the first to provide validated industry reaction to new regulation, how key players plan to respond and what this means for your business.

Our data

We have unparalleled access to vessel, company, port and fleet databases. This means our journalists have the richest data sources to validate and quantify news and analysis, giving you the complete picture.

"In the age of social media, where information is abundant, comment is free but verified facts are few and far between, Lloyd's List's trusted, accurate and authoritative insight is more important than ever"

Richard Meade
Editor-in-Chief, Lloyd's List
